In an Age of Daily Scandal and Lack of Trust Where have all the Leaders Gone?

Bestselling Author's Latest Book Designed to Help Answer this Question by Revealing What Ten Leaders do to Inspire Millions of People Worldwide

Coeur d' Alene, ID – In this latest book in the bestselling Mind Capture series, Inland Northwest author Tony Rubleski reveals what ten very different, yet highly successful, trailblazers did to achieve massive global success despite setbacks, critics, and other unique challenges during their upward climbs to influence millions of people per year.

Based on in-depth recorded interviews, their stories are not only inspiring, but they contain wisdom and tips that the reader can learn from and use within their own life and business. Rubleski culled the hours of audio interviews down into a concise and entertaining look at what successful leaders do to stay focused while pursuing their passion. "I've been blessed to conduct over 100 up-close interviews with internationally known bestselling authors, leaders, and newsmakers over the past eight years. It's amazing what they revealed to me about adversity and success" he stated.

A few of the Trailblazers featured in the book include John Stossel, host of the show Stossel on FOX TV, Dave Liniger, Co-founder of REMAX, LLC, head hockey coach Dan Bylsma of the NHL Buffalo Sabres, to NY Times bestselling author Sally Hogshead and top business blogger Seth Godin.

Some of the topics and areas shared in the book include:

- The seven key characteristics all Trailblazers share
- How they respond to doubt, adversity, and criticism
- Strategies to help reinvent a business or career
- Why failure is a big part of the overall success process
- Effective ways to turn ideas into reality to grow a business or lead a team
